Monmouth Plantation
 Acclaimed plantation inn

Monmouth Plantation, a National Historic Landmark, is a small luxury inn featuring 30 beautifully appointed rooms and suites both in its antebellum mansion and in eight outbuildings positioned throughout the property's 26 acres. Built by John Hankinson in 1818, Monmouth was returned to its antebellum magnificence by its current owners, Ron and Lani Riches. Each room has been decorated with the style and luxury of the antebellum period – some antiques are even original to Monmouth – and many offer working fireplaces and Jacuzzi tubs.
